Specialized Units Can Expedite Soft Tissue Recovery

Preferred Medical Network is pleased to announce the addition of Game Ready™ Control Units to the array of recovery products for your injured worker. These units are designed to facilitate a R.I.C.E. regimen (Rest, Ice, Compression, Elevation) often prescribed to treat chronic injury or as part of rehabilitation following orthopedic surgery. Already a standard for many professional athletic associations, the units help reduce pain and speed up soft tissue injury recovery.

Game Ready Control Units can replace elastic bandages, ice packs and other recovery utilities. In fact,

Game Ready makes these therapy elements easy and exact:

- Compression (multi-level options)
- Temperature (35-50°F)
- Timing (digital timer with automatic shut-off)

Patented form-fitting, flexible and comfortable wraps have separate layers for simultaneous temperature control and compression. Plus, the outer wrap is removable for machine washing for the various wrap types: ankle, knee, articulated knee, wrist, torso, hip and groin, back, shoulder and elbow. The unit is portable and convenient, engineered for durability and easy to maintain.

Did you know...

devices and techniques that facilitate R.I.C.E. are just one of the methods used by physical therapists (PTs) to help injured workers recover? PTs utilize exercises that increase flexibility, strength or endurance and help restore function, improve mobility, relieve pain, and prevent or limit permanent physical disabilities. The overall goal is to improve individual function at work and at home.
